SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Justice Stevens, Justice O'Connor, Justice Scalia, Justice Kennedy, Justice Souter, Justice Thomas, Justice Ginsburg, and Justice Breyer.

Justice Stevens said:

“On behalf of the Court Mr. President, I extend to you a warm welcome. This special sitting of the Court is held today to receive the Commission of the newly appointed Chief Justice of the United States, John G. Roberts, Jr.

“The Court will now recognize the Attorney General of the United States, Alberto Gonzales.”

Attorney General Gonzales said:

“Justice Stevens, and may it please the Court. I have the Commission which has been issued to the Honorable John G. Roberts, Jr., as Chief Justice of the United States. The Commission has been duly signed by the President of the United States and attested by me as The Attorney General of the United States. I move that the Clerk read the Commission and that it be made part of the permanent record of this Court.”

Justice Stevens said:

“Thank you General Gonzales, your motion is granted. Mr. Clerk, will you please read the Commission?”

Clerk Suter said:

“George W. Bush, President of the United States of America, to all who shall see these presents, Greeting: Know ye; that reposing special trust and confidence in the wisdom, uprightness, and learning of John G. Roberts, Jr., of Maryland, I have nominated, and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, do appoint him Chief Justice of the United States, and do authorize and empower him to execute and fulfill the duties of that office according to the Constitution and Laws of the said United States, and to have and to hold the said office, with all the powers, privileges and emoluments to the same of right appertaining, unto him, the said John G. Roberts, Jr., during his good behavior.

“In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent and the Seal of the Department of Justice to be hereunto affixed.

“Done at the City of Washington, this Twenty-ninth day of September in the year of our Lord Two Thousand Five and of the Independence of the United States of America the Two Hundred and Thirtieth.

By the President: George W. Bush. Alberto Gonzales, Attorney General.”

Justice Stevens said:

“I now ask the Deputy Clerk of the Court to escort Judge Roberts to the Bench.”

Justice Stevens said:

“Are you ready to take the oath?”

Judge Roberts said:

“I am.”

Justice Stevens said:

“Will you repeat after me?”

“I, John G. Roberts, Jr., do solemnly swear that I will administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and to the rich, and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent upon me as The Chief Justice of the United States under the Constitution and Laws of the United States, so help me God.”

Justice Stevens said:

“Chief Justice Roberts, on behalf of all the members of the Court, it is a pleasure to extend to you a very warm welcome as the Seventeenth Chief Justice of the United States and to wish you a long and happy career in our common calling.”

Adjourned until 10:30 this morning.

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Stevens, Justice O'Connor, Justice Scalia, Justice Kennedy, Justice Souter, Justice Thomas, Justice Ginsburg, and Justice Breyer.

Justice Stevens said:

“For thirty days our flags have flown at half-mast as a gesture of respect for our friend and colleague, William Hubbs Rehnquist, the former Chief Justice of the United States, who died on September 3, 2005 at his home in Arlington, Virginia.

“Born in Milwaukee in 1924, Bill Rehnquist was the son of William Benjamin and Margery Peck Rehnquist. He attended public elementary and high schools in Shorewood, Wisconsin, a suburb of Milwaukee. During the Second World War he served in the Army Air Force as a weather observer in the United States and North Africa. He was honorably discharged in April of 1946.

“He was graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Stanford University with a B.A. and M.A. in 1948 and also received an M.A. from Harvard University in 1950. He earned his law degree from Stanford University in 1952, where he was first in his class.

“After leaving Stanford, the Chief Justice was a law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson from February 1952 through June 1953. He practiced law in Phoenix, Arizona, from 1953 to 1969 when President Nixon appointed him Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel. He was nominated as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States by President Nixon on October 21, 1971 and sworn in on January 7, 1972. Some fourteen years later President Reagan nominated him Chief Justice of the United States and he was sworn in on September 26, 1986. Chief Justice Rehnquist was the longest serving Chief Justice since Chief Justice Melville Fuller, who died in office in 1910.

“While on the bench, Chief Justice Rehnquist authored 458 opinions for the Court, 376 dissenting opinions, and over 100 separate writings either concurring in part and dissenting in part or explaining his rulings as a circuit justice. These opinions were lucid expositions of the law, often revealing his exceptional familiarity with the history of our country. Moreover many of them, as well as the books that he authored, provided evidence of his profound love for our country and our independent judicial system. He was truly the first among equals, having led us by examples of excellence rather than by fiat. Although his opinions have shaped every important area of the Court’s jurisprudence, with his background as a practicing lawyer he realized that it was often the opinions issued with little fanfare that would have the greatest impact on the day-to-day practice of law. He sometimes described these opinions by quoting from Thomas Gray’s Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard: ‘Full many a flower is born to blush unseen, And waste its sweetness on the desert air.’

“The members of this Court will greatly miss Chief Justice Rehnquist’s warmth and collegiality. I speak for all of us in expressing our sympathy to his son, Jim, his daughters, Janet and Nancy, his grandchildren, and to all those whose lives were touched by this remarkable man. At an appropriate time, the traditional memorial observance of the Court and the Bar of the Court will be held in this Courtroom.

“We now turn to the future. Tomorrow our flags will no longer fly at half-mast. Today we welcome our new Chief Justice, John G. Roberts, Jr., and we express our thanks to President Bush and to the members of the United States Senate for the wisdom and diligence that attended the process of nominating and confirming Chief Justice

Roberts in time to enable him to preside over our proceedings today. It is appropriate to note that in his pre-judicial career our new Chief Justice argued 39 times before this Court, a number that exceeds the combined experience of the rest of us. We know him well and he has already earned our respect and admiration.”

The Chief Justice said:

“Thank you very much Justice Stevens.”

“I have the honor to announce, on behalf of the Court, that the October 2004 Term of the Supreme Court of the United States is now closed, and the October 2005 Term is now convened.

“Today’s orders of the Court have been duly entered and certified, and filed with the Clerk, and they will not be otherwise announced.

“I would like to welcome the Members of a British Delegation who are visiting our Court today as participants in the Anglo-American Legal Exchange.”

ORDER IN PENDING CASE

No. 05A578. C. T. Hanft, United States Navy Commander, Consolidated Naval Brig, Applicant v. Jose Padilla. Jose Padilla has filed a petition for certiorari, seeking review of the Fourth Circuit's judgment upholding his detention by military authorities. See Padilla v. Hanft, No. 05-533 (filed Oct. 25, 2005). On November 22, 2005, the Government filed a motion before the Fourth Circuit, seeking approval to transfer Padilla from military custody to the custody of the warden of a federal detention center in Florida, to face criminal charges contained in an indictment filed November 17, 2005. See Supreme Court Rule 36.1 ("Pending review in this Court of a decision in a habeas corpus proceeding. . . the person having custody of the prisoner may not transfer custody to another person unless the transfer is authorized under this Rule."). Padilla agreed that the transfer should be approved. The Fourth Circuit denied the request, citing a concern that transfer might affect this Court's consideration of the pending petition for certiorari and concluding that the "decision should be made not by this court but, rather, by the Supreme Court of the United States." Order at 3, Padilla v. Hanft, No. 05-6396 (CA4 Dec. 21, 2005). The Solicitor General has now filed with this Court an Application Respecting the Custody and Transfer of Jose Padilla, seeking the same authorization previously sought from the Court of Appeals. Padilla has filed a response, arguing instead that the Court should delay his release from military custody and consider his release along with his petition for certiorari. The Government's application presented to The Chief Justice and by him referred to the Court is granted. The Court will consider the pending petition for certiorari in due course.

Application for stay of execution of sentence of death presented to Justice O'Connor and by her referred to the Court denied. Petition for writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court of California denied. Justice Breyer dissenting.

Petitioner is 76 years old, blind, suffers from diabetes, is confined to a wheelchair, and has been on death row for 23 years. I believe that in the circumstances he raises a significant question as to whether his execution would constitute “cruel and unusual punishment.” U. S. Constitution Amendment 8. See Knight v. Florida, 528 U. S. 990, 993 (1999) (Breyer, J., dissenting from denial of certiorari); Elledge v. Florida, 525 U. S. 944 (1998) (Breyer, J., dissenting from denial of certiorari); Lackey v. Texas, 514 U. S. 1045 (1995) (Stevens, J., respecting denial of certiorari). I would grant the application for stay of execution.

The Chief Justice said:

“Before calling the first case, I would like to acknowledge the presence in the Courtroom this morning of Justice Sandra Day O’Connor, and I would like to read into the records of the Court an exchange of correspondence. The first letter is dated January 31, 2006, the effective date of Justice O’Connor’s retirement. It is to her from me and it reads as follows:

“Dear Sandra, I am honored to transmit to you the letter that the members of the Court with whom you sat for so many years signed shortly after you announced your retirement last summer. After serving with you for only a few months, I understand how sincere and heartfelt their sentiments are. I join them wholeheartedly, with added appreciation for your invaluable guidance and support over the past several months. Sincerely, John.”

The Chief Justice said:

“I would like now to invite Justice Stevens to read the letter that was signed last summer.”

Justice Stevens said:

“This letter is dated July 18, 2005, and it was written by William H. Rehnquist, and signed by all of Justice O’Connor’s then colleagues.

“Dear Sandra, your decision to retire brings a sense of loss to each of us. When you came to the Court twenty-four years ago, you faced the same challenges that new members of the institution have always faced. But, in addition you faced a challenge that none of them faced—you were the first woman justice. You have met all of these challenges with ability and élan.

“Your opinions have left their mark on every major field of the Court’s jurisprudence. You have also lent your hand to numerous extra-judicial activities—the ABA’s CEELI program, for example, and the Court’s Renovation Committee. We have all profited from your contributions during our twelve years together, and will miss you greatly. Affectionately, and we all signed the letter.”

The Chief Justice said:

“The final letter is dated today, March 27th, and it reads:

“Dear Colleagues, thank you for the kind letter each of you signed on the occasion of my retirement. I look back on my twenty-four plus years here with warm appreciation for all the goodwill each of you has shown to me despite the occasionally contentious nature of our work. I can truly say our nation is blessed by having a Supreme Court with such gifted, intelligent, and hardworking members. The process followed here works remarkably well. I will always cherish the opportunity to have served on the Court with each of you. Sincerely, signed Sandra Day O’Connor.”

The Chief Justice said:

“The Court is in special session this afternoon to receive the Resolutions of the Bar of the Supreme Court in tribute to Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist. The Court recognizes the Solicitor General.”

The Solicitor General said:

“Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court. At a meeting today of the Bar of this Court, Resolutions memorializing our deep respect and affection for Chief Justice Rehnquist were unanimously adopted. Today, the members of the Bar of the Supreme Court honor the life and legacy of a gifted lawyer. A selfless public servant, and a treasured teacher, mentor, and friend. Those who knew William Rehnquist will remember him as one, who in the words of Justice Holmes ‘lived greatly in the law.’” “To his credit however, he cared less about being great, than about doing and living well. As President George W. Bush remarked, ‘to work beside William Rehnquist was to learn how a wise man looks at the law and how a good man looks at life.’”

“Rehnquist was born in Wisconsin, on October 1, 1924, the son of a paper salesman and a homemaker who spoke five languages and worked as a translator. He was raised in Shorewood, a Milwaukee suburb near Lake Michigan, and graduated from high school in 1942. Shortly thereafter, he joined the United States Army Air Corps. His war-time service took him to a number of domestic posts, and also to more exotic destinations in North Africa. His time there impressed upon him that “if you lived in the right place, you didn’t have to shovel snow for four months a year.” Accordingly, after discharging from the service as a sergeant, he headed west to Stanford University in 1946.

“After graduating from Stanford and completing a year of graduate study at Harvard, Rehnquist returned to Stanford, where he flourished at the law school. Upon graduation, he served as a law clerk for Justice Robert Jackson. Rehnquist later described his clerkship as ‘one of the most rewarding experiences of my life.’”

“Rehnquist’s time in Washington proved doubly rewarding, for during this period he began dating Natalie “Nan” Cornell, whom he married in August 1953. Characteristically unconventional, Rehnquist passed up opportunities at lucrative East Coast law firms, and chose Phoenix. During his 16 years of private practice there, Rehnquist represented a broad array of clients. He was also active in politics and civic life. Through it all, he maintained a balanced life. He would work from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., then close the law books, and go home. He and Nan were blessed with three children—Jim, Janet, and Nancy—and the Rehnquist family managed to take a month's vacation together each year.

"After the 1968 presidential election, Rehnquist was nominated and confirmed as Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Legal Counsel. Rehnquist discharged his responsibilities with such great distinction that, when Justice John Marshall Harlan retired in 1971, Rehnquist was the President's choice to be the 100th Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Confirmed in 1972 at age 47, Rehnquist was one of the youngest Justices in modern history. As an Associate Justice, he emerged as a powerful intellectual force. He authored a number of significant opinions for the Court, but he did not hesitate to express his position in solitary dissent, thus inspiring an early group of law clerks to bestow upon him a Lone Ranger doll as a mantlepiece. When Chief Justice Warren Burger resigned in 1986, it was precisely Rehnquist's powerful intellect, his stellar record on the Court, and his consistent judicial philosophy that made him President Ronald Reagan's pick to lead the Court.

"As Rehnquist took his new seat as the leader of the Court in 1986, President Reagan presciently remarked that he 'will be a Chief Justice of historic stature.'" Rehnquist's jurisprudential legacy was substantial, especially in areas of criminal procedure, religious liberty and due process. His influence was, however, perhaps most evident in the Court's cases involving federalism. As early as 1975, he made clear his position on regulating the "States as States" under the commerce clause power. Dissenting alone, Rehnquist argued that the federal government must treat the States like sovereign entities, rather than individuals. As happened a number of times during his tenure, Rehnquist's position in dissent ultimately was embraced by a majority of the Court. Rehnquist's promotion of federalism ultimately served as the basis for the Court's anti-commandeering principle, its strengthening of the States' sovereign immunity, and its reaffirmance of "judicially enforceable outer limits" on the commerce power, in United States v. Lopez.

"Rehnquist's legacy on the Supreme Court involves much more than doctrinal contributions and noteworthy decisions. He encouraged and exemplified collegiality, fairness, and graciousness among the Justices. Of course, for those attorneys privileged enough to argue before the Supreme Court during his long tenure, his legacy is as much about his commanding presence on the Bench as his approach to the Constitution or the Conference. Rehnquist's view of oral argument was emblematic of his no-nonsense approach to judging and to life. Rehnquist preferred plain-spoken arguments to flowery rhetoric. And although he was a kind and easygoing man, he adopted a stern and no-nonsense demeanor on the Bench, running arguments with Nordic precision, and always with the utmost respect for the red light.

“Above and beyond his demanding official duties, Rehnquist pursued and cultivated a rich array of interests and passions. Family, friends, and law clerks remember well his dedication to afternoon swims and weekly tennis matches, his friendly wagering on football, his love of trivia and charades, and his interest in—and voluminous knowledge of—sports, literature, geography, and art. Rehnquist also served as Historian-in-Chief, writing numerous books on history, which also foreshadowed the next chapters in our Nation’s history.

“William Rehnquist served well his country, his profession, and the Constitution. All the while, he embraced the value, interest, and importance of ordinary, everyday life. He took to heart Dr. Johnson’s dictum that ‘[t]o be happy at home is the end of all human endeavor.’” He exhorted law school graduates to realize that their abilities and opportunities gave them “choices,” and that “how wisely you make these choices will determine how well spent you think your life is when you look back at it.” Gathered here together, looking back at his life, the Members of the Bar of the Supreme Court are pleased and honored to announce the opinion—and, no doubt, the Chief is pleased that it is unanimous—that his was a great life, exceedingly well spent.

“On behalf of the Bar of the Supreme Court, it is my privilege to present to the Court the Resolutions adopted today so that the Deputy Attorney General may move their inscription on the Court’s permanent record.”

The Chief Justice said:

“Thank you General Clement. I now recognize the Deputy Attorney General of the United States.”

Mr. McNulty said:

“Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court. On behalf of the Attorney General, I am pleased to say that the Bar of the Court met today to honor the memory of William H. Rehnquist, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court from 1971 to 1986, and Chief Justice of the United States from 1986 to 2005.

“William Rehnquist served his country with great honor and distinction. He was a patriot who deeply appreciated the virtues and foundations of our constitutional government. He had a giant intellect, but lacked all pretense and was known for his collegiality and sense of humor. And during his 33 years on this Court, he made a profound contribution to the American rule of law. When he was only a child,

William Rehnquist told his elementary school teacher that he was ‘going to change the government.’ Not long thereafter, he embarked on a path of public service and accomplishment that would lead him to fulfill that prediction.

“His journey of public service began when he joined the Army as a teenager to serve his country during World War II. He served as a law clerk to one of the legendary figures in American law, Justice Robert Jackson. And he later served as an Assistant Attorney General in the Nixon Administration. At the Department of Justice, it has been said that he converted what was then a little known post—the Office of Legal Counsel—into “one of the key positions of the Administration.” He also successfully argued a case before this Court, after which, he remarked, he ‘was drenched with sweat.’” But that was just a beginning.

“In 1971, Rehnquist, only in his 40s, was appointed to this Court. He immediately became known for his fierce intellect, lone dissents, and conservative jurisprudence. He also impressed his new colleagues with his affable, down-to-earth Midwestern demeanor, if not his trademark sideburns and thick-rimmed glasses.

“When Chief Justice Burger retired in 1986, President Reagan saw in Rehnquist the measure of a great chief justice. As President Reagan explained, “Rehnquist had distinguished himself ‘for his intellectual power, the lucidity of his opinions, and the respect he enjoys among his colleagues.’” When asked about his nomination to be chief justice, Rehnquist—flashing his characteristic wit and self-deprecation—replied, ‘I wouldn’t call it the culmination of a dream, but it’s not every day when you’re 61 years old that you get a chance to have a new job.’”

“Chief Justice Rehnquist had a profound impact on the Court and our legal system. He authored close to 1000 opinions, presided over almost as many oral arguments, and administered the oath of office on five occasions to three different Presidents. He was only the second chief justice to preside over impeachment proceedings against a sitting president. He managed the Court with unrivaled efficiency, and he was uniformly praised by his colleagues for his fairness, impartiality, good humor, and selfless leadership on his watch. Chief Justice Rehnquist held the public decorum of the Court in the highest regard and had a powerful presence at the center of the Bench. He presided over perhaps the most active Bench in the history of this Court. As a result, during oral argument he often assumed the role of “master sergeant”—a role accented by the gold stripes he wore on his robe in later years. He made virtually immeasurable contributions to American constitutional law. He was a key participant in the Court's decisions placing limits on the Miranda rule, recognizing greater leeway for the police in conducting searches under the Fourth Amendment, and in enforcing the limits on federal habeas corpus review of state court criminal convictions. His respect for the role of the States in our constitutional government sparked a revitalization of the doctrine of federalism.

"In 1975, Rehnquist wrote in dissent that '[s]urely there can be no more fundamental constitutional question than that of the intention of the Framers of the Constitution as to how authority should be allocated between the National and State Governments.'"

"In time, his dissenting views on the role of federalism and the enumerated limits on federal legislative power secured a majority on the Court in a number of important cases, including the Court's landmark decision in United States v. Lopez.

"Chief Justice Rehnquist believed strongly in the virtues of judicial restraint. He cautioned that permitting "non-elected members of the federal judiciary" to resolve divisive social issues that were not addressed by the Constitution was "genuinely corrosive for the fundamental values of our democratic society." He invoked such principles in his opinion for the Court in Washington v. Glucksberg, in which the Court refused to invoke the Due Process Clause as a means of invalidating a State's assisted-suicide ban.

"As an Associate Justice, Rehnquist wrote passionately in dissent that the Court's church-state jurisprudence had broken free from its constitutional and historic moorings.

"As Chief Justice, he led the Court in a number of important Establishment Clause cases, including the Court's landmark decision four Terms ago upholding Cleveland's student voucher program. Chief Justice Rehnquist was an ardent advocate on behalf of the federal judiciary and a champion of the independent judiciary. In his annual reports on the state of the federal judiciary, he addressed head-on and without pretense or partisanship the major issues confronting the judiciary each year. And in his nineteenth, and final, year-end report, he wrote that it is 'judicial independence that has made our judicial system a model for much of the world.'"

"Chief Justice Rehnquist was too modest to speak about his own place in history, but he once observed his own insights as to what made John Marshall such a great chief justice. He explained that Marshall 'had a remarkable ability to reason from general principles'; 'he was able to write clearly and cogently'; and, 'every bit as important,' he 'was very well liked.'"

“William Rehnquist shared those same qualities with Marshall. He had a brilliant analytic mind and encyclopedic knowledge of the law. As he proved in his legendary “lone ranger” dissents, he was a powerful and lucid writer. And “every bit as important,” he was a beloved man who earned the trust, confidence, and deep admiration of his colleagues.

“Chief Justice Rehnquist was a stalwart of the federal judiciary and faithful guardian of our Constitution. Few Americans have contributed more to this Court, or their country, in the cause of justice and the rule of law. He deserves his place alongside the nation’s great chief justices. And the country owes him an enormous debt of gratitude for a life of devoted public service.

“Mr. Chief Justice, and on behalf of the Attorney General, the lawyers of this Nation, and, in particular, the Bar of this Court, I respectfully request, that the Resolutions presented to you in honor of the memory of Chief Justice William Rehnquist be accepted by the Court, and that they, together with the chronicle of these proceedings, be ordered kept for all time in the records of this Court.”

The Chief Justice said:

“Thank you Mr. McNulty and General Clement for your presentations. Your motion that the Bar Resolutions be made part of the permanent records of the Court is granted.

“We also extend to Chairman Steven Colloton and members of the Committee on Resolutions; Chairman John Nannes and members of the Arrangements Committee; and Ronald Tenpas, Chairman of today’s meeting of the Bar, our appreciation for the Resolutions you have adopted today.

The Chief Justice said:

“William H. Rehnquist was nominated to the Supreme Court by President Nixon on October 21, 1971, and joined the Court as its 100th member on January 7, 1972.

“In 1986, President Reagan nominated him as our nation’s sixteenth Chief Justice, and he took the oath for that office on September 26, 1986. In his nearly 34 years on the Court, Chief Justice Rehnquist wrote 458 opinions for the Court—beginning with Schneble v. Florida in 1972 and ending with Van Orden v. Perry in 2005. He served with sixteen other Justices.

“You have heard described the Chief’s legacy in specific areas of the law, such as criminal procedure, federalism, state immunity, and freedom of religion, but perhaps his most significant contribution was broader than any particular area of the law.

“Over his years on this bench, Chief Justice Rehnquist helped bring a sharper focus to the work of the Court. This manifested itself in many ways. During oral arguments he would maintain focus on the precise question upon which the Court had granted certiorari—often to the frustration of arguing counsel. An assertion by a lawyer about what a statute meant was likely to be met by a question from the Chief about what it said. Perhaps his trademark question from the bench, regularly asked whenever a lawyer propounded a broad assertion on a point of law, was “Which one of our cases supports for that proposition?”

“What was remarkable was the Chief’s ability to distinguish on-the-spot any offered citation that the Chief thought was not on point.

“The Chief brought the same rigor he expected of counsel to his own work. His opinions are notable for being clear and concise. They generally exhibit a sparseness that the Chief thought was beneficial not only to lower courts and lawyers bound to apply them, but also to proper development of the law. There were exceptions to this rule—an opinion on an obscure Postal Service regulation might contain a fascinating sidebar on the history of the Pony Express, the minutiae of a water-rights opinion might be broken up by a disquisition on the first irrigation project in the arid west. That was just the Chief’s love of history and a good story coming through, and the readers of his opinions were richer for it.

“The Chief’s colleagues on the bench have spoken often of their high regard and genuine affection for him, and they have commented on the fairness with which he administered the Court. From the time he hung out a shingle in Phoenix for a two-person firm in which his partner was the head of the Young Democrats, William Rehnquist never allowed differing views on even fundamental issues to prevent him from enjoying warm and close friendships with people from all walks of life.

“You heard the Chief Justice described in the Bar meeting as a great lawyer, mentor, teacher, colleague, and friend. But there is no doubt he was first and foremost a loving husband to Nan and dedicated father to his children Jim, Janet, and Nancy. He managed to make it home for dinner almost every evening, and to take a month’s vacation with his family each summer. He knew what was important in life.

“Chief Justice Rehnquist was an accomplished historian who wrote four books. He could quote poetry for any occasion. Name just about any city in the world, he could likely tell you its population and weather, and probably the nearest body of water and mountain range. He enjoyed card and board games, a trivia and charades expert, and he was the only person I have ever witnessed lie down on his stomach to line up a shot at croquet.

“He was a patriot who loved and served his country. More than anyone I’ve known, he trusted in himself. He was direct and straightforward; utterly without pretense and completely unaffected in manner.

“Ralph Waldo Emerson’s 1841 essay “Self-Reliance,” contains a line that the Chief liked: “Trust thyself: every heart vibrates to that iron string.” There’s another passage in that same essay that the Chief liked that I think aptly describes his approach to the law and to life. These are Emerson’s words:

“What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, equally arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and meanness. It is the harder because you will always find those who think they know what is your duty better than you know it. It is easy in the world to live after the world’s opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.”

“We pay tribute today to a great man. He will be missed by his colleagues, his friends, family, and all those whose lives he touched.”

After six years of service in that position, Ms. Rider will be leaving us, before we reconvene in the fall, to become the director of the William H.
